Welcome to Edinburgh

Welcome to the 61st International Submariners Congress here in Edinburgh Scotland. It is also the 125th anniversary of submarines in Britain.

The 61st International Submariners Congress is a fantastic time to meet up with our friends and colleagues from all over the world, and is also a great time to meet new friends, but it is also a time to remember those people that can no longer be with us.

It is therefore a great honour and a privilege to hold another congress here in the UK, and to be host to such a large family of submariners from across the globe.

During your stay with us in May 2026, we have put together a wonderful package of exciting and interesting attractions that will make this congress a very memorable and enjoyable experience for everyone. We have included a varied program of events that include the sightseeing in Edinburgh, Sterling Castle, the Kelpies and the Falkirk wheel. Our last day will be a memorial service in Dundee.

From myself, and all the members of the International Submariners Association (GB), we send out a very warm welcome to you all, and look forward to seeing you in May 2026.
